

HIP HOP - CHRIS WONG

A captivating dancer, choreographer, and director- Chris 'WOW' Wong creates stories through movement with his creativity and experience in the entertainment industry.

His dance style blends together elements of hip hop, house, popping, locking, and new style hustle. The list doesn't end there, as a student of life, he's always looking to challenge himself and draw inspiration from new material.

He is professionally trained in all foundations of street dance and his training extends across the globe- LA, New York, Tokyo, and Vancouver. His work is currently highlighted in the directing of his street dance company, Culturally Defined.

As a performer, he works with da Costa Talent and has been featured in music videos, tv shows, movies, and concerts. This is his third year selected as one of Georgia Straight's Top 3 Dancers for his influence in the dance community.
